The Reflective Teaching Portfolio

Friday
September 12, 2014
12:00–2:00 PM

The Reflective Teaching Portfolio is an ongoing and reflective journal of a faculty member's evolution as a teacher. A valuable and widely recognized professional development tool, it includes a statement of teaching philosophy, responsibilities and goals, as well as key evidence showing how these goals are being reached.

Please join Paul King, Associate Professor of Architectural Technology, CUNY, for a demonstration, as well as exploration, of the teaching portfolio's potential.

Registration is required – email celia_baez@fitnyc.edu. Lunch will be provided.
